BATTLE ABBEY TOURNAMENT.

Daughters of the Confederacy Furnish a Pleading Program.

The Tournament at the Fair Grounds last Friday, under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, for the Battle Abbey fund, was a pronounced success in point of attendance, in the pleasure and the enjoyment of those present, and a big thing when looked at from a financial point of view. The weather was uncertain and at times disagreeable, but withal there was a fair attendance. Every class of people saw the attractions of the day; from the man with his obligations paid and money in his clothes to the fellow on such intimate terms with poverty that he had to glue his eye to a knot hole in the fence. There were people bent with the burden of years, and young folks just entering upon life. "Eyes spoke love to eyes that answered back again" and everything was as agreeable as the tin-tinnabulations of a dinner bell. The ladies received $255.00, and think they would have taken in $500.00 but for the rain. Their expenses were about $70.00.

Hon. John L. Jones was Master of Ceremonies and Chief Marshal of the day. The other marshals were W. P. Woldridge, R. L. Granbery and Mullen Wilson.

The street parade at 11 o'clock from the Athenaeum to the grounds consisted of the bicycle brigade, Company B., the Lewisburg and Petersburg bands combined, floats containing pretty girls—the first float representing the Confederacy, crowned and honored by the rising generation, with Miss Mary Gant personating the Confederacy; the second float contained the singers, who rendered the Southern songs at intervals during the day—and citizens on horseback and in carriages. Capt. R. D. Smith made the opening address after reaching the grounds, followed by a song by the young ladies. Then came a magnificent and abundant dinner, served by the ladies.

The first thing in the afternoon was a quarter mile dash on 28-inch wheel bicycles for the boys under 15. There were four starters, and the race was interesting. Robert Smith won, Tom Kelley second—time 46 seconds. More music by the young ladies.

The most exciting race of the afternoon was the one-half mile dash free-for-all, with three starters. Frank Shoup led at first, but proved to be only a quarter horse and was nearly distanced by Palmer Sheppard and Lee Vaughan, the latter winning by a nose.

After music, came the half-mile dash for boys under 15, on 28-inch wheels. There were four starters, but Duke Biddle easily won, with Clark Jones second.

The most amusing feature of the day was the attempted climbing of the greased pole, which had been erected in front of the grand stand, for the money placed on top. Many tried the climb, but no one was able to get anywhere near the money.

In the five mile bicycle race there were three starters, Sheppard, Vaughan and Mosely. Mosely could not go the distance and quit. Vaughan tired on the last half and Sheppard came home strong, an easy winner.

The opening of the grand tournament was next announced by Mr. Sims Latta, the Herald. The chivalry of Columbia was there on his charger. He had ribbons on his elbow and satin leggings on his fatted calf. He sat like a centaur on his prancing steed, and stabbed the ivory rings with a hostile air that captured the heart of many a fair maiden. At the bugle's blast four Knights entered, each bent on winning the crown for his Queen of Love and Beauty. The Knights were, Sir Knight of the Silver Cross, Mr. Geo. Shelton; Sir Knight of the Columbia Light Infantry, Mr. Jake Harlan; Sir Knight of the Golden Cross, Mr. Will Howard; Sir Knight of the Zouaves, Mr. Nat Wilkes. Mr. Jake Harlan won the honor of crowning the Queen. He, escorted by his brother Knights and a military corps, repaired to the grand stand and made known that Miss Sarah Moore should be the Queen, and the crown placed upon her brow. Capt. J. H. Fussell made the speech in behalf of the victorious Knight, and Hon. W. J. Whitthorne made the response for the Queen. Misses Mina McLemore, Annie Evans and Olivia Barrow were the maids-in-waiting on the Queen.

The refreshment rooms were arranged in Union and Confederate colors, and the booths brightened by flowers. Everything on the program was enthusiastically received; all the committees, especially the refreshment committee and the untiring secretary, did exceedingly well, and the whole affair was a tremendous success, and the Daughters of the Confederacy received the congratulations of every one with happy hearts.

Attention Confederate Soldiers.

Decoration Day of our dead heroes; third Thursday, 21st day of May. All members of Leonidas Polk Bivouac and all Confederate soldiers in the county are requested to send or bring in all the flowers they can, and deposit the same at Joe Hendley's corner, opposite the Bethel House. The procession will form at Joe Hendley's corner at 2:30 o'clock, headed by Columbia Light Infantry and drum corps, followed by Leonidas Polk Bivouac and all Confederate soldiers, Sons of Confederate soldiers, the Daughters of the Confederacy in vehicles, and all other carriages and persons on horseback.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are requested to take charge of the flowers at Hendley's corner and prepare for and distribute the flowers at the grave-yard.

The following committees are requested to be on hand and assist the ladies: J. K. Farrell, J. T. Williamson, J. H. Williams, H. L. Hendley, J. H. Fussell, Frank G. Smith, Lucius Polk, Geo. Williamson, James McGruder and J. L. Jones, Jr.

Let everybody come out and bring all the decorations they have.

Hon. E. W. Carmack will make the address of the day, and Mr. John Moore, Jr. (Trotwood) will deliver an original poem on Gen. Pat Cleburne and his division battle flag.

All persons who will join in singing will please be on the platform. H. G. EVANS, President.
JOHN L. JONES, Secretary.

ATHENEUM NOTES.

The little folks are busy rehearsing for the operetta "Red Riding Hood, with Fairies and Gypsy Camp," which will be given on Wednesday evening, May 13, in the Athenaeum study hall. Patrons will of course be provided with front seats, although the public are invited. The little people hope to see all their friends, and to give them one of their choicest entertainments.

The Athenaeum has been favored with the wedding cards of Mr. Herbert A. Wildman to Miss Nelle Walker Cole, Wednesday, April 23, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C. Miss Cole has many friends, both at the Athenaeum and in Columbia, who will wish for her a happy and prosperous future.

Final examinations commence this week, and will continue until the 22nd.

To the regret of their many friends, Mrs. E. A. Fusch, with her fair little daughter, Margaret Adel, returned to their home in Nashville last week.

For the past week Mrs. McKinney has been suffering with her foot, having stepped upon a sharp nail. She is able to receive her class, although she is still quite lame.

Mr. Rene McCord and his sister, Miss Kate, of Selma, Ala., are guests of the Athenaeum, and will remain until after the commencement, May 27th.

The Athenaeum tenders its best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Baltis Allen, who were married in Birmingham, April 29, Mrs. Allen was Miss Annie May Bridewell, who attended the Athenaeum a few years ago.

Daughters of the Confederacy.

There will be a meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy on Saturday, May 9, at 3 o'clock p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Williamson on West Seventh Street. A full attendance is requested, as appointments are to be made to assist the veterans on Decoration Day.

Mrs. W. B. DOBBINS, Sec'y.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Farmers from every section of the county report the growing wheat as extremely promising.

Hogs are dying with cholera in several neighborhoods of this county.

It is most gratifying to learn that the growing crops are all doing well at this date.

It now seems imminent that another plague is going to play havoc with the crops this year. Not only in this county, but in Giles and other surrounding counties, the army worms have arrived in vast amounts; also a small yellow and black fly. This is the first time in 8 years that Giles county has been thus stricken.

CABINET PHOTOS $1.50 a dozen—groups or any—at Young's Gallery, South Main street.

Mr. W. D. Stephenson of Spring Hill, advertised in this column last Friday for a stray mare. The ad found his mare for him Monday. Dr. J. H. Wilkes lost his buggy rug a few weeks since. He advertised in the HERALD and found it. In both instances the result was directly traceable to the HERALD. Four times out of five the HERALD is successful in finding lost articles. Remember this the next time you lose anything.

Wm. Lane, who left here some twenty years ago, and whose family supposed that he had died in Memphis with yellow fever has turned up alive. His folks live at Turner Hook, where he found them this week.

The HERALD does not care for any more acrostics just now. Enough of a good thing is enough.

We call the attention of our lady readers to the special sale of silks and satins at J. S. Rushton's, Saturday and Monday. He has special bargains for you.

J. Hough Guest will receive pupils on the violin, viola, cornet or mandolin.

Mrs. W. T. Irvine, with her two grandchildren and their nurse, were returning to their home, near Carter's Creek, from Columbia last Monday, and thought they were driving a perfectly safe horse. Just before reaching home they stopped at a branch for the horse to drink. When he had finished drinking, Mrs. Irvine tapped him to start him on; instead of starting he began kicking, and continued that performance until he had turned the buggy over and freed himself from it. Mrs. Irvine's wrist was sprained by the fall, and the oldest child was a little bruised, but the nurse and babe escaped unhurt.

Miss Ida Mai Fitzgerald, our charming "Zula," favored us with a call last Tuesday, and brightened our office with some beautiful flowers.

Miss Clabie Taylor, of Culleoka, is visiting friends in Franklin.

Mr. J. J. Trimble, our interesting "Cinderella," and sister of Theta, were in town this week.

Mr. John Higdon, a telegraph operator at Decatur, Ala., and a brother of Mrs. A. O. McKennon, died last Monday. He formerly lived at Lynnhaven.

Mr. H. L. Martin, of Midway, Ky., is visiting his wife, who has been with Maury County relatives for some time.

Mrs. Melvin Akin and children, of Bear Creek, are visiting relatives at Culleoka.

More Maury Countians leaving for Texas. This time the family of Mr. J. Miller, of Hampshire, who leave next week for Cameron, Texas, where they will reside.

Notice to Breeders.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. R. L. Wagstaff and Miss Allie Mai Isaacs were married at Lynnhaven Monday afternoon, Elder E. J. Meacham of Columbia, performing the ceremony.

Mr. R. G. Smith and Miss Leola McKinney were married at the residence of Rev. W. A. Province Tuesday, Mr. Province tying the knot. This was a "Gretchen Green" case.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary McKissack died April 28, age 85, old age.

George Furgason died May 5, age 70, la grippe.

MARRIAGES.

Sunday-School Convention.

The following program has been prepared for a Sunday-school convention to be held at Bethel Church, four miles south of Mt. Pleasant, on the fourth Saturday in May. Those whose names appear after each subject will favor us with their presence and lead in the discussion of the subject assigned them. The convention will be composed of four schools—Bethel, Sandy Hook, Enterprise and Ebenezer. In case those who are to lead in the discussion of subjects cannot attend, please notify me by postal. Each school will be expected to bring well filled baskets. Don't forget this! Come to take a part in the work. Let some of the schools select two or three of its members to render nice selections.
